5. Al Ittifaq Islamic Boarding School

Al Ittifaq Islamic Boarding School was established in 1934, in a very remote area with a very lagging condition of society. In addition to learning religious knowledge, the majority of students from the poor and orphanage process agricultural land around the pesantren, which is then marketed to several supermarkets in Bandung and Jakarta. From the results of its agricultural activities, the santri can fulfill their daily needs while attending their education at the pesantren. Al Ittifaq has around 14 hectares of land for agriculture. On this land there are about 25 types of vegetables that are planted and managed by their students. Vegetables are usually marketed in subscription supermarkets in major cities. The land managed by santri can produce around 3-4 tons of vegetables every day. Al Ittifaq also has various kinds of small and medium businesses that involve citizens, including cattle, chickens, fish, sheep, and garment home industries.
